Intervention of Amateurs in
The Intelligence Community

6. Action: CIA will chair a small group of IAC representatives to review information pooled by those agencies involved in the above subject. Although it was recognized that no positive action may be possible, nevertheless the consequences of such intervention were agreed to be potentially so serious as to require review of possible courses of action, including consideration by the FBI in the light of certain United States statutes.

Item of Information

7. Action: In executive session the Committee gave careful consideration to the letter of 10 February 1953 from the Director, FBI, to the DCI and was thoroughly briefed by his representative. It was agreed to keep the matter under advisement and to attempt to procure greater precision as to the meaning of certain key phrases. Dr. Kent was requested to draft questions which might elicit this greater precision of meaning. A decision will be reached as to further action to be taken by the intelligence community, in the light of the reply to these questions and collateral information.
